

aixigo wins important Banking IT- Innovation Award of Switzerland

Aachen, November 2017 – The software company of Aachen received the most important Banking IT-Innovation Award of Switzerland in St. Gallen on the 16th of November. The "Banking IT-Innovation Award" honours innovative and technology-based solutions that convince both at the customer front and in the back office, and is awarded by the Business Engineering Forum of the University of St. Gallen.

The three winners of the 2017 Award were honoured at the Business Engineering Forum. aixigo convinced the independent jury with its new wealth management platform.

"Aixigo's High Performance Portfolio Management System demonstrates the importance of back-office innovations, which are often not visible to the end user. The cloud-based solution enables new use cases through its performance. On one hand, asset management is made to be more democratic, since an infrastructure is created that enables wealth management also in the retail sector. On the other hand, the requirements of future technologies (eg. KIs) are anticipated and made possible. All of this happens in a way that also makes it easier for traditional providers to transform to this new technology base." Judgment of the jury of the Banking IT-Innovation Award 2017.

Christian Friedrich, CEO of aixigo, and Marcus Gründler, Head of Portfolio Management Systems at aixigo, presented aixigo's Wealth
